

RESTLESS NORWAY.

Excitement Over the Coming Elections. Talk of a Republic.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The general elections in Norway, which have been fixed for December, are of unusual importance, as determining the fate of the liberal cabinet under Steen, with its policy of internal reforms and greater autonomy for Norway. It will be re-announced by the conservative ministry called the Stang, which was formed by a coalition vote which gave a majority enabling Steen to form a cabinet. Among the leading questions upon which Steen obtained the power of the nation, the first plank in whose programme is the special diplomatic representation of Norway abroad and consequent increased power to interfere in the conduct of Scandinavian foreign relations.

The by-elections which have taken place since the fall of Stang have gone in favor of the present Ministry, which has now added to its programme the question of suffrage extension. The question of suffrage extension, hitherto a partisan party, hitherto a partisan party, have all resisted every attempt to compromise. There are now, however, no compromise. There are now, however, no compromise. There are now, however, no compromise.

The Sten party, relying upon popular support and Conservative defection, calculate that in the new Storting, they will have a majority of about forty, pledged both to suffrage extension and enlarged privileges for Norway in the guidance of foreign affairs.

King Oscar and his government consider this claim of the Norwegian national leaders as tending toward an early dissolution of the union. The government papers do not hesitate to accuse the Norwegian national leaders of aiming at the eventual establishment of a republic, and predictions are indulged in that should the Stockholm government veto the resolutions of the Storting, the radicals, led by Steen, will not hesitate to declare Norwegian independence, even at the risk of war with Sweden. The official view taken at Stockholm is that King Oscar will not at first accept the Steen reforms, but will resort to another dissolution of the Storting and await its issues.

The Norwegian Eveninging, a Swedish paper which has been inspired by the government at Stockholm, published a few days ago a very remarkable article in regard to the elections in Norway. It said:

"To the numberless questions menacing the peace of the world will be added the Scandinavian question." The two nations of the Scandinavian Peninsula, which until now, thanks to their union, have gained relative security, would enter upon a period of trouble, where not only their tranquility and their prosperity would be at hazard, but even their independence and their existence would be menaced."

FREIGHT CARS PLUNDERED.

Two Brakemen Arrested, Charged With Robbing the B. & O. Railroad.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 16.—What is regarded as a most important arrest was made to-day by Marshal Frey's men and Baltimore & Ohio detectives. Freight cars on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad have been entered at Brunswick and goods taken which amounted to thousands of dollars during the last two years.

William Fowler and Jerry Morgan are the two men held charged with the robbery. Part of the stuff, consisting of shoes and clothing, has been recovered from where it is claimed they had sold it.

These two men are employed as brakemen on the road. Brunswick is a siding or meeting place where most trains stop, and while standing on the tracks, it is claimed, these men would open the cars, and bring employees nothing was thought of it.

THEY SHOT THEIR HOSTS.

Two Ejected Guests at a Wedding Firo Through the Window.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 16.—Edward Dahm and Maggie Scholz were married at the residence of the bride's parents in Pella, near Shawano, Wis. During the wedding festivities two uninvited guests arrived, and after drinking considerable beer one of them became ugly and was ejected from the house.

He turned upon the wedding party after reaching the street and fired two shots from a revolver, one of the shots hitting the older Scholz and wounding him severely. The other shot struck a brother of the bride in the head, making a wound that will probably prove fatal. The ruffians then fled, but were hotly pursued and captured. They are now in jail.

Consecration of Bishop Brooks.

Boston, Sept. 16.—Rev. Phillips Brooks will be a fulfilled bishop just a month from to-day. On Wednesday, October 15, his formal consecration is to occur in Trinity church, this city, and it will be a red letter event in ecclesiastical circles. Many of the highest church dignitaries in the country will be there to take part in the ceremonies, and the Episcopal clergy of New England will be largely represented. The exact order of the services has not yet been arranged, but Bishop John Williams, of Connecticut, the presiding bishop of all the dioceses, will have charge, and Bishop Henry C. Potter, of New York, will preach the consecration sermon. Bishop Thomas M. Clark, of Rhode Island, and Bishop Henry B. Whipple, of Minnesota, will act as pretorators, and the attending presbyters will be the two brothers of Bishop Brooks, Rev. John Cotton Brooks, of Christ church, Springfield, and Rev. Arthur Brooks, rector of the church of the Incarnation, New York city.

Three Tramps Held for Murder.

CORVALLIS, N. Y., Sept. 16.—The three tramps arrested here yesterday afternoon on the charge of having been implicated in the murder near Utica, were to-day sent to jail for ninety days for vagrancy. The Utica police do not want them. This evening Chief of Police Sager received a telegram from Prosecuting Attorney William A. Stricker, of Washington, N. J., furnishing a description of three men, one of whom is a negro, who are wanted there for murder. The description tallies with that of the tramps. Chief Sager sent word to Washington to send an officer for them. The tramps deny that they had any participation in a murder.

Left Her Freak Husband.

RACINE, Wis., Sept. 16.—Bernard Baldwin, the broken neck dime museum freak, is in this city to-night in search of his runaway wife. He had just left his home at Tiffin, O., for his last engagement when he learned that his wife had left home with a horse jockey named Griffin, leaving five small children. She took with her $700 in money, $2,700 worth of diamonds and silverware, and five trunks packed with clothing and household goods. They were traced as far as Milwaukee, where all track of them was lost.

MARTIN'S FERRY.

That Famous Tin Button—Politics, Personalities, Etc.

The evening Times says: We were shown over by Mr. John W. Crooks for the McKinley tin badge from nearly every State in the Union. One order was for ten gross. The badge is having an immense sale not only in Ohio but all over the country. The statement sent to the Pittsburgh Post that they were made in Wales has acted as a roorback and has given them an advertisement that could not have been secured in the regular manner for thousands of dollars.

Every Republican in Martin's Ferry is cordially invited to attend the club meeting in Commercial Hall next Saturday evening, to be addressed by Hon. Lorenzo Danford. Captain Danford is a great favorite in Martin's Ferry, and will no doubt draw a large crowd.

Ten gross of American tin McKinley buttons were sold yesterday to a leading business house at Greenville, O., where Major McKinley will speak to-morrow. This is a sample of the way these buttons are selling.

A lawn tennis tournament will be held on the Arcadian club's grounds next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. It will be open for all players in Martin's Ferry.

A son of William Chambers, of the C. & P. railroad, ran away yesterday. Any person knowing of his whereabouts will do Mr. Chambers a great favor by notifying him.

It is next Friday evening week, September 25, that Hon. J. S. Barrows is to speak in the Martin's Ferry Opera House, and not to-morrow evening.

Passenger business on the C. & P. railroad has been much heavier this month than during the corresponding month last year.

A. G. Shaver will attend the reception to be given Mr. James Thompson and bride below Bellaire to-night.

The Belmont Brick and Tile Works is very busy. A switch is being put in by the C. & P. railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Barr attended the wedding of Mr. Barr's brother at Steubenville yesterday.

Mr. Hunter, of the Gaylord coal works, will move his family from Pennsylvania to this city next week.

Superintendent J. E. Mannix will entertain the teachers of the public schools this evening.

Mr. C. F. Young, of the Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette, was in Martin's Ferry yesterday.

There was work in the Master's degree at the meeting of the Masons last night.

Willie Harrison, of Pittsburgh, is visiting friends in Martin's Ferry.

Mr. Samuel Hinkins and family are visiting relatives at Piqua, O.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gray have returned from the West.

The Coroner's Verdict.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Sept. 16.—The coroner's jury in the case of Officer Alexander Grant last night rendered a verdict, finding the deceased came to his death from a gunshot wound in the head, inflicted by Maurice B. Strellinger, who is charged with the murder.

"Just as Good."

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is Peculiar to itself."

GREAT LACE CURTAIN Sale to-morrow at GEO. M. SNOOK & CO.'S.

Great Interest Being Manifested.

Great interest is being manifested in the great lot sale which will take place at Moundsville September 23 and 24. Shrewd business men realize the fact that Moundsville is going to increase in population rapidly, and that an investment in lots there is bound to yield large profits. The demand for lots for actual building purposes is already great and steadily increasing. Works that will give employment to 1,000 people are already in operation, building or contracted for. This will bring an increase in the population of from three to five thousand, and every one knows what this means to a small city. The company has a list of about two dozen other industries that desire a location here, and a number of them will be located before spring. The lot sale by the Moundsville Mining and Manufacturing Company will take place September 23 and 24, when a rare chance will be offered to investors, large or small, on easy terms.
